PLANS MADE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL PROJECT

Community organization leaders, local county and town officials and professional agricultural workers met on Nov. 30 to hear Paul Stewart, representative, Bureau of Solid Wastes and Vector Control (far left) as he outlined possible plans for sanitary landfill operations in Appomattox County and a suggested concurrent program of rate control. The rat control organization efforts are being coordinated by extension agent J. A. Smith, Appomattox town officials are considering, along with Appomattox town officials and others, procedures for meeting Virginia regulations on the operation of a sanitary landfill.

Growers Reminded of Barley Inclusion and Soybean Substitution in 1972 Feed Grain and Wheat Programs

ASC County Committee Chairman J. F. Alvis, Jr., reminded growers that barley is included in the 1972 feed grain program. It was not included in the 1971 program.

Eligible growers who plan to participate in the 1972 feed grain program should take note that an acreage set-aside will be required of between 20 and 35 percent of a farm's barley base as well as of the corn and grain sorghum base. The exact percentage will not be known until the 1972 feed grain program announcement is made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture within the next few weeks.

Inclusion of barley in the 1972 program means that the set-aside payments will be made, as they are made for corn and grain sorghum acreage reduction. No announcement has yet been made of the payment rate, Mr. Alvis said the barley payment rate will be in an equitable ratio with the set-aside payment rates for corn and grain sorghum

The reminder that barley will be included in the 1972 feed grain program is also important because of the substitution provision, he said.

Substitution permits a program participant to choose a crop best suited to his farm and market operations and still earn payments and history credit for the crop historically grown on the farm.

Provided set-aside acreage and other program requirements are met, this means farmers with wheat allotments may earn wheat program set aside payments and retain wheat history and allotment credit by growing soybeans instead of wheat. Likewise soybeans may be substituted for barley and other feed grains to maintain history and bases.

A corn producer may switch to grain sorghum, A wheat-and-barley farm may go 100 percent to barley. Or, the Chairman said, any other combinations of the permissible crops may be substituted, as the producer chooses. He will still earn set-aside payments on his farm's allotment and base crops.

Barley growers who were not in the program in 1971 were also reminded that a set-aside requirement does not mean an acreage limitation on any crop. acre farm with a 20 acre barley base, If he participates in the feed grain program, he will set aside acreage representative of his cropland in the required amount and maintain it in conserving use. If the farm has a conserving base, that acreage will also be kept in conserving use. On the rest of the farm, the grower may plant as much barley, or any other crop, except quota crops, as he chooses. He is not limited by his barley base, which is used only to figure his set-aside acreage and set-aside payment.

Full details of the 1972 feed grain set-aside program are expected to be received in the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office in the near future, said Mr. Alvis. "Farmers will be told as soon as possible of all the details," he said.

Change That "Slow" To "Speedy Sale"

"I have a feeling that our sale of fruit cake is somewhat slow", says an experienced fruit cake sale observer of the annual Lions Club sale of fruitcakes. This means that EVERYONE who's been intending to buy a super- delicious Lions fruitcake is urged to DO SO right away. Then that guy that says things are "slow" is gonna have to change his mind! Sales of fruitcake help a lot of Lions' projects.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

BY JANE ASHLEY

Cheery Red Christmas Pudding

An adaptation of a typical German fruit pudding, Rote Grutze makes a light, delightful holiday dessert. It is prepared with frozen raspberries and currant jelly, thickened with corn starch.

	Rote Grutze
2 (10-ounce) packages frozen raspberries	¼ teaspoon salt
2 (8-ounce) jars red currant jelly	½ cup corn starch
	½ cup water
	1 tablespoon lemon juice

Thaw frozen raspberries. Place in saucepan and bring just to boil, stirring constantly. Strain through fine sieve or cheesecloth. Measure juice, adding water if necessary to make 2 cups; pour into kettle. Add red currant jelly and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until jelly is completely dissolved. Bring to boil. Mix corn starch with water; stir into fruit juice mixture. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Blend in lemon juice. Pour into 1-quart mold or individual molds. Chill thoroughly. Unmold. Serve with whipped cream or custard sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Library Needs Discussed

At a regional meeting of the Governor's Conference on Expanding Public Library Service for all Virginians, held at Central Virginia Community College, specific means of improving and expanding public library service at the local level with state aid were discussed.

Information released by Mrs. Jane Black, director of the Lynchburg Public Library, revealed that in the state as a whole 83 per cent of the population has public library service. In this district 78 per cent of the people are served.

The information showed further that in the state as a whole, localities spend $2.18 per year per person for public libraries while in the local district expenditures average only $1.83 per capita.

This district, which includes the City of Lynchburg and the counties of Amherst, Appomattox, Bedford and Campbell, received nine cents per capita in state aid — two cents less than the statewide average, the data revealed.

Mrs. Black noted that the higher local expenditures are, the higher the state grants-in-aid. In 1969-70, libraries in this area circulated 2.2 books for every person living in the district, the same number as are circulated throughout the state as a whole.

Among other things needed by the district, it was stated, are more professional librarians to fill existing vacancies, more books, more state grants-in-aid to buy library materials, higher local expenditures to reach at least the state average of $2.18 per person.
